Dear Harold:

This is in response to your letter of October 9. I'd be glad to help with research on your project, though my time will be limited. I'll check into a few things and then call or write to let you let what I find.

Hope you and Lil are keeping well.

By the way, who is (or was) Albert Newman, who wrote the book "The Assassination of President John F. Kennedy" back around 1967? There's not a word of information about him on the jacket of his book, and I've never read anything about him. Nor has his book ever been reprinted. Do you know anything about him?

Sincerely,

Al
